Address: Virginia Road No. 728, Long Island Vicinity,
Campbell County, Virginia

Present Owner: L. H. Holland and brothers

Present Use: Not in use

PART I. HISTORICAL INFORMATION

Original and subsequent owners: "Green Hill" plantation was built by Samuel Pannill who first bought 600 acres from William and Moses Fuqua in 1797, and added to and developed the plantation til his death in 1864.

PART II. ARCHITECTURAL INFORMATION

A. General Statement

1. Architectural character: Although this building is now in a ruinous state, it appears to have been constructed in a similar manner to the other stone structures at Green Hill. From physical evidence, it may have been as large as the stone tobacco barn to the east. Its orientation with the main house to the north and its proximity to the road leading into the farm seems to suggest that it was used as a stable.
2. Condition of fabric: All that remains of this building is a portion of the west walls. This section is divided into three bays or rooms with access openings between each stone partition and from each room into what was the main part of the structure to the east.

- B. Site: This building is located on a direct line south of the main house and on a strong east axis with the carriage house (ruins), granary, stone tobacco barn and another carriage shed (also in ruins.). Paralleling the structure to the north can be found sections of cobblestone drives leading toward the east.
